Consultation questions

Q4. Do you agree with the aims of this plan?

Yes

Share your thoughts with us in the space below:

We agree with the aims of the plan but note that the objective to increase waterbodies at or beyond good status from 43% to 82% seems aspirational and note that it would be useful for stakeholders to clearly see, in particular, the scale of pressures from man-made barriers to fish migration and rural diffuse pollution.

There do not appear to be significant pressures for Scottish Water in the Solway Tweed RBD.

Q5. Can you suggest any changes to the approach that will help us reach our aims?

Share your thoughts with us in the space below:

We agree with the proposed approach and have no suggested changes.
